

Jim Leddy, Phyllis and Judge Arnold Rosenfield.

Carl and Vivien Wong.

THE BUZZ: To join Phyllis Rosenfield and her husband, Judge Arnold Rosenfield, for an evening of long-lashed llamas, salsa demos, fancy Latin appetizers and international libations is to celebrate diversity — in style. A festive crowd of about 200 turned out at Rohnert Park's Sonoma Mountain Village on Sept. 9 for Fiesta Fantástica, a benefit for the Listening for a Change project.

THE CAUSE: The sixth annual fund-raiser brought in about $45,000 for Listening for a Change, created by Phyllis Rosenfield, a former teacher, to improve the acceptance of human diversity through education, oral history and the arts.

THE COMPANY: The $75 tickets to the project's one annual benefit are snapped up by attorneys, educators and other proponents of a more inclusive and equitable Sonoma County.

UP NEXT: A theme and date for the Listening for a Change 2007 summer benefit bash are still in the works. Check in at www.listeningforachange.org.

Judy and Larry Carlin meet Mondo, an 8-month-old llama shown at the event by Danille Wagner and daughter Camryn.

Jim Wilkinson and wife Ellen Boneparth.

Jessica Flores and Cathy Wilde.

Cappie and Tom Garrett.